

KOHL'S

Product Development Intern

Has you written all over it.

As a Product Development Intern you will assist your team in developing, sourcing, and executing all of Kohl's private and exclusive label brands - the ones that are ONLY available at Kohl's (LC Lauren Conrad, Apt. 9, Sonoma, etc.)

What you'll do

Help your office competitive shop - aka see what our major competitors are selling and decide if there are opportunities within our assortment

Assist with daily activities: color reviews, vendor emails, meeting set-up, and product review

Shadow and learn from all levels of your team, especially the Product Development Coordinator (the role that interns are hired back as!)

Develop business skills such as collaboration, communication, business analytics, and increase product specific knowledge

Career path

Product Management Intern
Product Development Coordinator
Associate Product Manager
Product Manager
Senior Product Manager

This is you

Undergraduate Junior

You have a passion for all aspects of a product: sales, market relevancy, textiles, etc.

You work with a sense of urgency and adapt well to change - "No day is the same" sounds like something you would love

You're a great communicator - you get along with a range of personalities and backgrounds

Your major is probably something like

Retail Management
Consumer Science
Marketing
Textile Sciences
Merchandising
Communications

Perks!

10 week paid internship

Free summer housing

Free transportation to and from work daily

Cookies

Free coffee

Associate discount